

Costs and charges for value for money assessments

The Legal & General Mastertrust Guide

The purpose of this guide

To help you with your value for money assessment, we've compiled a list of all the relevant charges and expenses for our Sole Governance Fund range.

You can find more information about our funds, including fund performance in our fund centre.

You can also find out more about completing the value for money assessment by reading our Value for Money guide.

Understanding transaction costs

Transaction costs are the average costs incurred over the previous financial year as a necessary part of buying and selling the fund's underlying investments to achieve the investment objective. A proportion of these costs is recovered directly from investors joining and leaving the fund. In the case of shares, broker commissions are paid by the fund on each transaction.

Transfer taxes and/or stamp duty may also be payable. In addition, there's what's known as a 'dealing spread' which is the difference between the buying and selling prices of the underlying investments. Unlike shares, other types of investments such as bonds, money market instruments, and derivatives, have no separately identifiable transaction costs. Instead, these costs form part of the dealing spread. We capture these costs using the methodology set out in Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) rules and PRIIPs (packaged retail investment and insurance products) guidance.

Implicit<sup>1</sup> transaction costs are calculated as the difference between the price at which a deal was struck, and the mid-market price of an asset at the time the order was placed in the market (arrival price). Where the arrival price isn't available, the implicit cost is calculated as the difference between the price at which a deal was struck and the mid-market opening price on the day of the trade. Where the mid-market opening price isn't available, the mid-market previous closing price is used. Where the previous mid-market closing price isn't available, a fixed fee is used to estimate the implicit costs of each trade.

Where the fund holds an investment managed by a third party, the transaction costs provided by the third-party manager are represented in this report as an indirect external fund transaction cost. Legal & General cannot guarantee the accuracy, integrity or completeness of such third-party data. The recipient understands and acknowledges that any third-party data in the disclosure may contain inaccuracies and/or omissions and may not be independently verified. Where transaction cost information has not been made available by a third party, transaction costs incurred in the externally managed fund have been estimated or excluded from this report.

In accordance with FCA regulatory requirements, where aggregated transaction costs result in a negative value, these costs have been adjusted to zero for reporting purposes.

<sup>1</sup> An implicit cost refers to any cost that has already occurred but isn't necessarily shown or reported as a separate expense.

*Investment management charge (IMC) = This charge covers the cost of managing the fund.

**Additional expenses (AE) = This charge includes variable expenses that are not included in the investment management charge.

***Fund management charge (FMC) = This charge is the sum of the investment management charge (IMC) and additional expenses (AE).

****Transaction costs = This reflects costs incurred by the fund as a necessary part of buying and selling the fund's underlying investments to achieve the investment objective. A proportion of these costs is recovered directly from investors joining and leaving the fund. Using the Cost Transparency Initiative (CTI) guidance, transaction costs have been calculated on an 'ex-post' basis, based on actual returns reflecting the 12-month period ending 30 September 2025
